ANNE SMITH THE PERSON STATES

And Kings Offers 57 of Her 63 Votes-But Nebody Could Find Out Yesterday if the Fight Was to Be Made McCarren, Belmont and Danforth See Hill-Convention Slate. Former Senator David Bennett Hill of Woi-

many Hall, has flung down the gauntlet to Mr. Hill and declared that the Democratic State Convention which is to assemble in the Academy of Music. New York city, on June 5 must not only indorse Bryan but must instruct the New York State delegates to vote for Bryan in the ocratic National Convention whi h is to be i held in Kansas City on July 5. Yesterday there were some Democrats within easy reach who felt like reciting a familiar stanza to Mr. Hill:

He either fears his fate too much. Or his deserts are small. That dares not put it to the touch To gain or lose it ail.

No one could tell last night after talking with Mr. Hill whether he would accept the challenge of Mr. Croker. Some said that he would not make any fight at all in the Democratic State Convention and others believed that he would out up some sort of a bluff against Mr Croker's mandate. It was a certained on indubitable authority that ex-Senator Edward Murphy of Rensselaer will vote in this contest with Mr. Hill's friends for control of the convention and of the State Committee to be selected by the representatives of the Senate districts in the State Convention It has all along been supposed that Mr. Murph would take the side of Mr. Croker and Tam many Hall. Mr. Murphy can send nine delegates from Rensselaer into the convention to support Mr. Hill should Mr. Hill decide at the last moment to make a fight against Mr. Croker. Mr. Murphy's attitude in this matter dates back a few months. Last winter he had a conversation with Mr. Croker as to the attitude of the Tammany Senators at Albany upon the possible retention in office of Louis F. Payre Superintendent of Insurance. Mr. Croker and Mr. Payn have been personal friends, and while Mr. Croker did not tell Mr. Murphy that the Tammany Senators at Albany would vote for Mr. Payn, he did tell Mr Murbby that they would in a certain contingency Benator Murphy at the time made the com plaint to Mr. Croker that ex-Gov. Black and Mr. Payn were working against him, Mr. Murphy, in the Rensselger and Columbia county districts. That didn't make any difference with Mr. Croker, who believed that Mr. Murph should stand in a local fight in his own shoes, and not seek outside aid to control his own Congress district. Mr. Murphy felt rather hurt at Mr. Croker's decision in the matter. Gov. Roosevelt easily defeated Mr. Payn, but the effects of the episode between Mr. Croker and Mr. Murphy remain, and it was declared last night on the highest authority that Mr. Murphy will side with Mr. Hill should Mr. Hill decide eventually to fight Mr. Croker.

It was announced that the Hon. John Norton of Troy may be temporary chairman of the State Convention, and that Elliot Danforth of Norwich, Chenango county, may be permanent chairman. In fact this appeared to be the slate

After Senator McCarren had had his talk with Mr. Hill along came the Hon. Perry Belmont and others. Mr. Belmont is to be asked to take the place of treasurer of the Democratic State Committee in place of John F. Gaynor of Fayetteville, Onondaga county, Should Mr. Bel mont decline the place it may go to Eugene Hughes, an old friend of Mr. Gaynor.

Of course the greatest interest has been manifested as to how the Kings county delegation of sixty-three in the approaching convention will stand as between Mr. Croker and Mr. It was announced last night author-Itatively that fifty-seven of the delegates will stand by Hill and against instructing the New York State delegation for Bryan at Kansas City, and that the remaining six of the Kings county delegation under the control of Senator Michael J. Coffey of the Fifth district of Kings will vote solidly for Croker and Bryan and an instructed delegation from the State. and an instructed delegation from the State.

Should Mr. Hill decide to make a fight against the mandate of Mr. Croker, it was said, there would be a fine old entanglement, and the forces might break even. Still there wasn't a Democrat yesterday who talked with Mr. Hill who could say positively if he desires to measure swords with Mr. Croker at the present time.

Mr. Hill is well aware of the power of Tammany Rall and its patronage and he is perfectly well aware that the vast majority of organization
Democrate in the State believe in supporting Bryan and Bryanism, and Mr. Hill, it was declared, hasn't the courage to come out and oppose these forces, although he well knows that the Bryan episode is but a political mirage.

The Democratic State Convention will be called upon to determine a number of contests.
The never-ending trouble in Monroe county has broken out again and there are contests in other Assembly districts. But the whole question at the moment is, will Mr. Hill and Mr. Murphy and their friends take up the cudgels in the Democratic State Convention against Mr. Croker? Mr. Hill, it is known, has never been very much of a fighter in the open. He has accomplished many things by subterranean negotiations, and as a master of that art he is very greatly the superior of Mr.
Croker. Mr. Croker is not always diplomatic, but he speaks out from the shoulder and seems to mean what he says. swords with Mr. Croker at the present time

NO STRIKE INJUNCTION.

JUSTICE ANDREWS DISSOLVES IT IN THE CIGARMAKERS' CASE.

Says That It Was Properly Granted by Justice Freedman, but That the Strikers Have Met the Allegations Made in the Com-

The temporary injunction obtained by S. Levy & Co., manufacturers of cigars in East Sixty-third street, restraining the Cigar Makers' International Union of America and its local mion, No. 144, from interfering with the busiess of the plaintiffs, has been dissolved by Justice Andrews of the Supreme Court. The temporary injunction, which was issued by Justice Freedman, went farther than similar injunctions have heretofore gone, in restraining the payment of strike benefit money on ing the payment of strike benefit money on allegations that the payments were made to foment the strike of the plaintiffs' employees and to encourage a continuance of the strike.

Justice Andrews says that the temporary injunction was properly granted on the papers before Justice Freedman, but that the defendants have met the allegations which were largely on information and belief, with specific densals of the material allegations by the different individuals referred to in the moving papers, so that the injunction caused be continued. The allegations of the plaintiffs of threats and intimidation, the Judge says, are not borne out on all the papers presented.

Again, with regard to the payment of strike moneys, the Judge finds the plaintiffs have not proved the alleged purpose of the payment. The plaintiffs said that the moneys were raid to men to keep up the strike to injure the plaintiffs. The Judge finds that the moneys were not paid to interfere with or injure the business of the plaintiffs in the affidavits before him, but that the moneys were paid to the strikers to support them and their families pending the strike for which an injunction will not lie.

The injunction granted by Justice Freedman not only restrained the strikers from picketing the premises of the plaintiffs, but also enjoined the Cigarmakers' International Union of America and local union 144 of that organization from paying the strikers for the work of picketing and from paying the strikers from the treasury of either of the unions for refraining from working for their former employers and from paying other persons with the aim of inducing them to refrain from working for the plaintiffs. In the order the Justice said that it appeared to his satisfaction that the acts complained of would produce irreparable injury to the plaintiffs, for which they would have no adequate remedy at law. allegations that the payments were made to

KNIGHTS MAY LEAVE C. F. U. Split in the Body Threatened Over Rivalries

Between K. of L. and A. F. of L. Unions. The fight between the Knights of Labor and the American Federation of Labor, for control and it was said yesterday, may cause a split in the Central Federated Union, that will result in the Knights leaving that body and joining the new Central Labor Union, which is composed altogether of Knights. The Cigarmakers' International Union, which is affiliated with the A. F. of L., complained yesterday that the Knights are pushing a new union label in opposition to its union label and enjoining all Knights to buy none but K. of L. cigars. On the application of Herman Robinson, an organizer of the A. F. of L. the Central Federated Union has decided to demand that the general officers of the Knights of Labor revoke the charter of the West Side Early Closing Association which has recently joined the order. Robinson says that he organized the association which is composed of clerks and salesmen, but the Knights captured it unfairly, he alleges, after it was organized. A number of other organizations will protest if the Knights of Labor brewers are admitted into the C. F. U. In the meantime the Knights have given notice that unless they receive fair play they will leave the C. F. U. and join the new Central Labor Union. F. of L., complained yesterday that the Knights

LEHIGH VALLEY TRACKMEN YIELD. 150 of the Strikers Return to Work-Full Force Expected by Saturday. WILKES-BARRE, Pa., May 30, - There was a break in the strike of the trackmen along the Wyoming division of the Lehigh Valley Railroad this morning, when 150 of the strikers reported for work. Supt. Mitchell hopes to have the full force at work by Saturday. The men cannot afford to remain idle and their organization is not strong enough to give them financial aid. There has yet been no delay in the running of trains. What work was necessary was done by other men and the company. aid. There has yet been no delay in the running of trains. What work was necessary was done by other men and the company, though inconvenienced, has not suffered greatly. The strike, however, has given point to the complaint of the trainmen of the division who, belonging to a powerful organization may tie up the road. They strike, for the firementengineers and conductors are piedged to support them. These men have demanded the same rate of pay given on other divisions, and an extra rate for extra work. The company has not yet replied to the requests presented last week and there is growing irritation among the men.

GEORGE'S CREEK STRIKE OVER. Miners Demand That the Organizers Give In -Intend to Return to Work Anyway.

CUMBERLAND, Md , May 30.-The climax in the George's Creek miners' strike was reached this afternoon when the Maryland Coal company's miners, as well as those of the New Central, American and George's Creek Companies, held meetings and by an almost manimous vote decided to return to work on Friday morning. As a majority of the men Friday morning. As a majority of the men belong to the union they also decided to appoint a committee to wait upon the organizers and demand of them that they call the strike off. If the organizers refuse they will act for themselves. As the organizers have called a mass meeting for to-morrow afternoon it is not thought that they will accede to the demand, but will try to head off the intended break. For the first time since the strike started, seven weeks ago, there is hope that within a week the 5,000 idle miners will return to work.

Bricklayers and Engineers Form a Compact. The nineteen local unions of the Bricklayers and Masons' International Union have made an agreement with the Portable Hoisting Engineers' Union of this city by which the bricklayers will not permit their members to work on any iob with an engineer who is not a member of the Portable Hoisting Engineers' Union. The latter in turn binds itself to a reciprocal arrangement. Neither union will join in sympathetic strikes except in behalf of each other. The agreement will be in force up to May 1, 1991.

Billy backed off, shook his head tentatively to see if it was in good working order, picked out the middle button on Francis's coat and precipitated himself upon it. Francis went and leaned ofer a convenient fonce and sucked in all of the adioining atmosphere in an effort to replenish his collapsed bellows.

"Murder:" he moaned as soon as he got speaking power. Then, being a con-cientious policeman, he tackled the subject once more. Just what happened thereafter isn't accurately known, but persons who were in that vicinity aver that they beheld a satyr in brass buttons proceeding down the road in a series of mad whirls. Two hours later Francis and the goat arrived at the pound at Taylor avenue and 180th street. Francis said he had brought the goat there. The goat looked as if he thought he had brought Francis. However, the goat staved and Francis went to the drug store for bandages and liniment. He was full of dents and his uniform looked like a design for a piece of lattice work. After repairs, sartorial and medical, he returned to his post on Macomb's Dam road. He says that the thoroughfare richly deserves its name, so far as police duty is concerned.

P. E. SEMINARY COMMENCEMENT. A Feature of the Exercises the Dedication of the New Buildings.

An important incident of the commence ment exercises at the General Theological Seminary in Chelsea Square yesterday was the dedication of two magnificent buildings which have been completed during the year. The most noteworthy of the two stands on the northwest corner of the block and is a gift from alumni of the seminary. It has been named Hoffman Hall in honor of the Dean of the seminary. The other building is five-story one erected with money bequeathed by the late Dr. William Eigenbrodt and named after the donor. The buildings cost $200,000.

The dedication ceremonies took place at 930 o'clock in the morning, Bishops Potter of New York and Scarborough of New Jersey officiating. The sermon for the occasion was preached by the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix. The commencement exercises followed. At these Bishop Scarborough presided and the services were conducted by Bishops Walker of West New York and Coleman of Delaware. OBITUARY.

John Gill, ex-Mayor of Orange, N. J., died at 8:45 o'clock yesterady morning of heart disease. He was born in Walpole Mass, in 1825 ease. He was born in Walpole, Mass, in 1835. His father, Ira Gill, was the inventor of the Gill hat-forming machine and was one of the best known hat manufacturers in the United States. Father and son were in business together until 1872, when the younger Gill removed to Orange and went into business as a hat former. In political affairs Mr. Gill always took a prominent part and although a stanch Republican he was respected by his political opponents as a broad-minded, liberal man who, when holding public office, administered it for the benefit of the people at large, irrespective of politics. For ten years he was a member of the Orange Board of Education. In 1879, 1880, 1883 and 1888 he was a member of the State Assembly and from 1894 to 1888 he was Mayor of Orange, being chosen for his second term in 1896 without opposition. He was one of the original Water Commissioners of Orange and advocated the purchase of the present water system at Campbell's pond. He sang in the Orange Mendelssohn Union for many years. Mr. Gill was a member and trustee of the First Presbyterian Church, President of the Orange Savings Bank, a member of Union Lodge, No. 11, F. and A. M., of Orange Chapter, Royal Arch Masons; the Republican Committee of Essex county and the Orange Republican Executive Committee. His wife and three sons survive him, one of the latter being the Rev. HARLEM OARSMEN IN FRONT

THEY WIN SIX RACES IN THE PASSAIC ANNUAL REGATTA. Downfall of Philadelphia's Crack Scullers,

Juvenal and Hedley, at the Hands of Ro-incohrand Nagle—The Vespers' Eight Finish Ahead of the New Yorks and Bohemians, Philadelphia and New York oarsmen competed at the annual regatta of the Passaid River Amateur Rowing Association yesterday and the local clubs carried off the honors by winning seven of the twelve events on the programme. Thousands of persons in holiday at tire lined the banks of the river and added to the naturally picturesque stretch on which the races were decided, between the Midland and Erie bridges, while a flotilla of steam craft gay with bunting was anchored at the finish with the adherents of the Nassau, Lone Star and

Bohemian clubs on board. Although the best crews in the country competed, the conditions militated against fast times and the only test of the ability of the contestants was the hollow manner in which some of the winners defeated other crews of sterling worth. A late start made it only possible to row two of the races up stream, with both wind and tide in favor of the oarsmen, while in the afternoon the favorable tide was more than offset by a brisk wind that blew directly against the oarsmen and ruffled the surface of the

The Nassau B. C. and Harlem R. C. were the greatest honor winners for the local contingent The representatives of the former captured three events in the easiest fashion, while although the blue and white of the Harlems was only twice carried to victory on each occasion, the best that Philadelphia could produce was relegated to the rear. J. A. Romohr, the Canadian scuiler, who is now a member of the Harlems, proved a valuable addition to the ranks, as he lowered the colors of J. B. Juvenal of the Vesper B. C., who has been for year supreme in this district. This defeat was emphasized later when Romohr, with the oldtime champion Jack Nagle for a partner, decisively defeated Juvenal and Hedley in the senior double sculls. The Vespers had satisfaction in the last race when their eight, which is a star aggregation intended for the Paris regatta, rowed away from the Bohemians and New York A. C. eights, and incidentally lightened the pockets of the "Bohoes." who backed their men for a considerable sum. The University of Pennsylvania oarsmen were among the winners. Under the colors of the University Barge Club, four undergraduates of the institution beat out the Nassau Boat Club crew, which was favorite for the junior gig race. The Maita B. C. of Philaassan Boat Club crew, which was favorite to be junior gig race. The Maita B. C. of Philadelphia captured the junior eight-oared shell ace, but was in turn beaten by the clean-looking New York A. C. crew in the intermediate ontest. The course for all the races with the xception of the eight oared was one mile. For he latter it was one mile and a half. The sumpares

Junior Singles - Charles Patrick, Newark B. C.; John Pardue, Institute B. C.; G. W. Engle, Malla B. C., Philadelphia; F. Budry, Pirst Bohemian B. C.; S. A. Cramer, Lone Star, B. C.; W. D. Hennen, N. Y. A. C.

Hennen won the trial heat in 6 minutes 15 seconds and Budry took the second easily in 6 minutes 15 seconds. Cramer, who stopped rowing when in second place, a few yards from the finish, was allowed to start in the final. In the decisive heat Budry had smooth water for the first quarter of a rule and gaineds, lead of the decisive heat Budry had smooth water for the first quarter of a mile and gained a lead of two lengths, while Engle of the Maltas and Hennen were rowing hard for second place. Budry increased his lead at the finish and won by three lengths in spite of poor steering. Hennen held Engle until the last quarter when the latter rowed clean away and took second place by five lengths. Cramer came fast at the end and was beaten by only a quarter of a length by the tired Hennen. Time, 7 minutes 7 seconds.

Intermediate Singles-John T. Coburn, Institute B. C.; M. Naughton, Nonparell B. C.; W. Menrhoff,

J. B. Juvenal, Vesper B. C., Philadelphia.

The tide was running strongly against the crack scullers when they came to the stake-bonts for the race up stream. Romohr was the favorite and he justified the confidence of his friends by taking the lead at the start. By finished sculling he gained a lead of a length at 220 yards and increased his advantage to two lengths at the quarter Juvenal struggled gamely to the end, but could make no impression on the Harlem man, who sculling smoothly to the finish won by three lengths. Time, 7 minutes 22 seconds.

Murray of the Newarks slipped his seat twice in the first quarter of , mile and this put them out of the race. Meantime the Nassaus and Lone Stars were racing for the lead and at the quarter the former crew was a quarter of a length ahead. At three quarters the Nassaus were an open boat length in the lead. From this point the Lone Star steered clear across the river to the Kearney shore and running into a stake 200 yards from the finish capsized. The Valencias who had stopped rowing, went on again for second place and finished twenty lengths behind the Nassaus Time, 6 minutes 20 seconds. The Nassau men got the position on the Kear-

This was expected to be one of the best races of the day, and for the first quarter of a mile the two boats travelled at a great pace against the strong wind. The Philadelphians were quicker to get into their stroke and led the Harlems by a quarter of a length at the furlong. Passing the Triton boat house, Romohr responded to the encouraging shouts of the Harlem "rooters," and, putting more power into the stroke, he and Nagle shot by the Vespers and led by one length at the quarter. At the half mile the Harlems had increased their lead to two lengths and a half, and it was a stern chase for the Vespers the rest of the way. The latter made a great effort in the last 300 yards and gained slightly, but the Harlems crossed the finish two lengths in advance. Time, 6 minutes 14 seconds.

Pulling a steady stroke, the barge club four drew level with the Nassaus at 600 yards, and a rare struggle ensued. At half a mile the nose of the barge club was in front of the Nassau craft, but the latter rowed a good stern race. It was only in the last quarter of a mile that the University crew showed its superiority, and spurting grandly at the fluish, won by two lengths. The Nassaus heat the Nereids one length and a quarter for the place. The Wyanokes finished third, two lengths behind. Time, 6 minutes 14 seconds.

This was a grand race for half a mile. The Nonpareits led at 600 yards, with the other three crews almost abreast and half a length behind. Then the Crescents' shell shot outfrom the rear ranks, and quickly wore the Nonpareits down. At half a mile the Crescents led by a length, and though the "Nons' struggled gamely

The Little Soldiers In Your Blood.

The part which the corpuscles of the blood play in making good the loss occasioned to the body by wear and tear, and in carrying off the effete or worn-out material, has been compared to the part played by a soldier. The corpuscles of pure blood are our soldier-friends, who repair the worn-out tissues of the body, and fight against disease-germs. The first condition for good health is pure blood, and that can only be obtained and kept by taking pure food and drink. Adulterated food-stuffs and drinks are the pests of the modern market, and all too often health considerations are sacrificed to apparent cheapness. If you would have a pure drink, take cocoa; but let it be a pure cocoa, such as Van Houten's, which is highly digestible, extremely soluble, and of most delicious taste. It is cheap, too, for it costs less than a cent a cup. It is easily made; it has an attractive aroma; and it contains more nourishment than an equal quantity of the best beef-tea.

J. Randail, who rowed at 4 in the Malta boat, caught a crab after a few strokes, but in spite of this and raggedrowing the Philadelphia crew was ahead when the men settled down to work. At the quarter the Maltas led by half a length. The Passaics were rowing in better time, but fell a length behind at the mile. Then they began to hit up the stroke and drew almost even with the Philadelphians at one mile and a quarter. A pretty race to the finish resulted in favor of the Maltas by half a length. The Institutes were two lengths further back. Time, 9 minutes 5 seconds. INTERMEDIATE EIGHT-OARED SHELLS.

The Institute B. C. had entered but withdrew after the decisive win of the Maitas in the junior race, and the issue was between the latter crew and the New Yorks. The "winged foot" contingent led after the first quarter and rowing with a good swing and time easily held the Maltas. They were half a lengt! in front at half distance and quickening the stroke in the last 100 yards staved off the Maltas' sport and won by three-quarters of a length. Time, 7 minutes 55 seconds.

and hundreds of foreigners who flock to the mining region have secured papers entitling them to vote. During the investigation a naturalization docket, which was of material evidence in the prosecution, disappeared from the prothonotary's office in this city and despite the efforts of Prothonotary Dasch no trace of it has been found.

Arrests are soon expected and it is said several politicians will be among those charged with the fraud, and that some public officials are also concerned. A number of foreigners with the fraud, and that some public officials are also concerned. A number of foreigners during the past two weeks have left the region where most of the papers were issued, and it is believed many of them have been sent away by the guilty men in the hope that they would be beyond reach as witnesses. The detectives, however, say they have enough evidence.

INDIANA BOY ORATOR STEALS. Nine-Year-Old Prodigy in 1892 Has Become a Freight Thief in 1900.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 30.—Courtland C. Carter, only son of the Recorder of Brown county and known over the State in the campaign of 1892 as "The Boy Orator of Brown." is in jeil at Columbus on a charge of robbing freight cars in the Pennsylvania yards. The lad was only 9 years old when he began making Democratic speeches in 1892 and he proved such a prodigy that he was in great demand in Brown and adjoining counties. He refused to speak in the next campaign and dropped out of public notice till arrested in the act of breaking into the car. He is also wanted at Shelbyville for highway robbery, being accused of robbing an old man at that place.
